JOSHUA

Joshua Lozoff has been inspiring audiences as a speaker and entertainer for most of his life.

Before becoming a national keynote speaker, Josh had a successful career as a professional actor, with featured roles on the iconic TV show Cheers (as Gino Tortelli) and in the cult classic movie Clueless. His martial arts skills were showcased in the film Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles.

After over a decade in Hollywood, Josh stepped away from the spotlight to focus on service work, volunteering extensively throughout Latin America. It was during these travels that a chance encounter with a street magician ignited his passion for magic, which became his second career.

Today, Joshua delivers his top-rated presentation, The Magic of Showing Up, at conferences, retreats, and team meetings nationwide, where he shares what show business taught him about bringing out the best in himself, and others.

Description:

We all want to feel like we can be ourselves. Unfortunately, there are so many things that get in the way: cultural expectations, professional expectations, and even stories inside our own heads. And when that happens, we miss so many opportunities to grow, to connect, to make a difference. So, how can we truly be ourselves? And how do we create that space for others?

Josh Lozoff is an actor and magician. From stages across the world, to the sets of the biggest Hollywood productions, he has connected with people across the world. And in this presentation, using a combination of wild stories, live magic demonstrations, and audience interaction - he's teaching us his top 3 secrets for making everyone feel like they matter. Josh believes that we all matter, and he's on a mission to make sure everybody knows it.

By the end of this presentation, attendees will be able to...

- Recognize when they are adopting an inauthentic personas, and its impact on their relationships and workplace culture.
- Apply curiosity-driven communication techniques, such as the "Radical Benefit of the Doubt," to reduce assumptions and create meaningful connections.
